

Proginter - Accessibility statement

1. Introduction

The owner of "Proginter" platform (hereinafter "the platform owner") believes in providing equal opportunities to users who have disabilities, on his platform and in the business. The platform owner works to ensure that people with disabilities can use the platform, read all the content published on it, and be able to receive information regarding physical accessibility adjustments.

2. Therefore, the platform owner made an effort to make his platform accessible.

3. The domain address is: <https://proginter.com>

4. An accessibility plugin has been installed on the platform which allows convenient use and browsing for those with disabilities.

Accessibility adjustments that, among other things, were made on the platform:

- Change text size
- Changing color contrast (changing background color, changing text color and highlighting links)
- underline links
- Readable fonts
- Accessibility statement with an explanation of compatibility, gaps and accessibility responsible

For further details, click on the accessibility button.

5. The platform owner makes efforts to make the platform accessible and adapted according to the requirements of the Israeli standard and law. At the same time, you may find certain components on the site that are not fully accessible. If you encounter any problem, please contact the platform owner, and he will make an effort to fix it within a reasonable time from the date of receipt of the reference.

6. You should attach to your application these details:

- The action you tried to perform
- The relevant page on the platform
- The problem you encountered and technical details such as:
 - The operating system on the device you surfed from.
 - Browser type and version.

7. The site provides services and markets products digitally only. There is no physical reception.

8. For inquiries about accessibility, contact us - support@proginter.com

This statement was updated in September 2025